

JUST LIKE EVE

By Conni Leigh James c2020
No capo, 125 BPM

INTRO: G C D C

VERSE 1

G

You came of age today

Another fairy tale gone astray

A treasure from youth, some unshakeable truth

Shattered and swept away

You lost a friend this time

Another hero was left behind

A terrible cost, that refuge you've lost

The garden from nursery rhyme

CHORUS

Em

Am

Just like Eve, I used to believe in a rose-colored paradise

Em

Am

In vine-covered walls, there was never a call to bargain or sacrifice

Em

Outside the gate, dragons wait and the world is on fire

The centuries burn with hunger and yearning and hope and desire

Today, one more fortress fell

Somewhere between here and hell

This garden a stage for the war that you waged

For the soul you refused to sell

You took that first bite again

Invited the demons in

I watch while you stand and stare down the damned

A new chapter and verse begin

Just like Eve, I started to need something more than that sheltered place

To cry and to bleed, to die in the weeds, an unbearable leap from grace

To dance on the edge of that razor thin ledge that was keeping the floods at bay

That original sin comes cascading in ... the knowledge I couldn't stay

BRIDGE

You once were the Morningstar

A firefly in a mason jar

Angels deceived you but banishment freed you

Now truth is your battle scar

Just like me, sometimes you still grieve for that arrogant vanity

The stories that bound us, there's something profound in the power of certainty

The voice in my head while I'm lying in bed, a whispered prayer from the child within

But I wake up alone, my fate is my own, we can never go back again

I wake up alone, my fate is my own, I would never go back again
